Overview

Who makes custom solar panels?

Trust Sunwize to manufacture and integrate custom-engineered solar modules for your portable industrial and electronics applications. We've been supplying custom off-grid and OEM specialty solar panels for over 15 years!.

How should I choose a solar panel voltage?

To choose a solar panel voltage, base your decision on your battery and charge circuit or charge controller. Voltaic standard solar panels come in 2V, 6V, or 18V options. We create these panels by taking a whole solar cell, cutting it into smaller pieces, and stringing those together. Each cell piece is approximately 0.5 Volts.

Why should you choose voltaic industrial-grade small Solar panels?

Voltaic's industrial-grade small solar panels are chosen for their long-term, reliable performance in the field. Our selection is easy to integrate into applications. For high volume applications, Voltaic can design custom solar panels to your specifications.

How do voltaic solar panels work?

Voltaic Systems' solar panels are made through a process where solar cells are placed on a piece of PCB or FR4, covered by a sheet of EVA (a glue like material) and then EVA. This stack of materials is then laminated under pressure and heat, bonding the materials together. The completed panel is then cut out using a laser cutter or punch. The solar cells convert sunlight into electricity.

How many volts should a solar panel charge?

Each cell piece in a solar panel is roughly 0.5 Volts. For most situations, the voltage of the solar panel should be higher than the charge voltage of your battery or battery pack.

How do I estimate the power produced by a photovoltaic panel?

To estimate the power produced by a photovoltaic panel, we use the JRC Photovoltaic Geographic Information System. This tool allows you to estimate the average power produced per day by your panel by month. For example, here is how much power a 1 Watt panel would generate during the longest and shortest days of the year.
