Overview

What is ISES solar energy advances?

Solar Energy Advances will be a high-quality journal reflecting the work of ISES in transforming our energy production and consumption into a fully renewable system. The new journal will complement the successful ISES Solar Energy Journal, launched in 1957, and which remains the flagship scientific journal for solar energy.

What is solar energy advances?

The journal welcomes the submissions of articles at the forefront of solar energy research, truly advancing the field. Solar Energy Advances covers a broad range of themes relevant to solar energy technology, systems, policy, applications, and its impact on sustainable development, climate change, resilience, circular economy, and social justice.

What is the ISES vision statement?

The ISES vision statement is: 100% renewable energy for everyone used wisely and efficiently. The journal covers research on integrated solar energy systems and their applications, optimised solar energy solutions and energy storage, hybrid energy systems including mini- and micro-power systems.

What is a special issue of solar energy advances?

Each issue of Solar Energy Advances will focus on specific topics, such as: Journal Performance: CiteScore: 4.0 This special issue explores the impact of digitalisation on solar energy systems, merging technology and sustainability.

What is ISES & why is it important?

ISES was founded in 1954 to advance solar energy technology development and use. Since then ISES has led the growth of solar energy from the laboratory to commercial success. ISES conferences, such as the biennial Solar World Congress and EuroSun, exemplify the spirit of international networking and exchange of ideas.

What is the Official Journal of solar energy?

The Official Journal of the Solar Energy, the official journal of the , is devoted exclusively to the science and technology of solar energy applications. ISES is an UN-accredited membership-based NGO founded in 1954.
