How does direct energy work?

Direct Energy purchases renewable energy certificates tied to solar, wind, hydro or biomass-based energy production projects. A la carte options to keep up a home's HVAC, electrical, appliances, plumbing, water and sewer.

What are direct energy RECs?

Direct Energy says the RECs are sourced from "eligible renewable energy resources like biomass, hydro, solar or wind." This means it isn't directly producing renewable energy itself, but rather buying certificates tied to production from green producers to offset the energy its customers use.
