With this project, DTEK has established itself as a key player in the use of energy storage systems in various segments of Ukraine's energy market, as well as the drive towards decarbonization of Eastern Europe in support of the EU Green Deal.

An estimated 350GW of grid-related battery storage will come online by 2030. Front-of-the-Meter (FTM) applications for grid support are driving demand for reliable battery energy storage technology throughout the European Union (EU). Most countries in the region have established carbon net zero.

DTEK, a leading Ukrainian energy company, has secured a $72 million loan to build one of Eastern Europe's largest battery energy storage systems (BESS). The financing, provided by state-owned Oschadbank, Ukrgasbank, and PUMB, marks DTEK's largest domestic funding deal for new energy infrastructure.

The World Bank is financing a tender to equip state-owned hydroelectric power plants in Ukraine with battery energy storage systems (BESS), amid reports of massive damage to the country's grid and generation fleet. New utility-scale BESS would be built at existing run-of-river and pumped hydro.

DTEK received a $72 million loan to help build a battery energy storage (BESS) facility, one of the biggest in Eastern Europe. The state-owned Oschadbank, Ukrgasbank, and PUMB will give out the funding. Before the attack began in February 2022, about 10% of Ukraine's energy came from renewable.

The price of solar battery energy storage systems in Ukraine is affected by several factors, mainly including: Battery type: e.g., lithium iron phosphate (LiFePO_4) or lithium ternary (NCM), etc., with large differences in price and performance between different types; System specifications: energy.
