Overview

How many users does Sina Weibo have?

The country's biggest microblogging service, Sina Weibo, now has 300,000,000 registered users, and is growing fast. The Chinese authorities use a variety of means to control Weibo.

Is Weibo a Chinese social media platform?

Weibo was the first Chinese social media platform to get listed on Nasdaq in New York in 2014. WeChat and TikTok have entered and expanded their presence in overseas markets. WeChat hit most international markets around 2012 but the app hasn't caught on outside of China (Custer, 2016).

Is Weibo a networked public?

Weibo as “networked publics”—both a public space and collectives (boyd, 2010)—have amplified the visibility and social impact of public events, and enabled individuals to gather on this public “square” to participate.

Does Weibo influence social networks?

Weibo not only changed the diffusion patterns on social networks but also contributed to self-mobilization, mobilization of others, and social coordination (Su, 2019). In addition, Bolsover and Howard (2018)'s study demonstrates that emotion and rationality can co-exist in Chinese Internet users.

What is Weibo hyperlinking?

Hyperlinking refers to the practice of linking to an external website (Fu & Lee, 2016). Weibo users' practice of hyperlinking has broadened discussion to other online platforms and mainstream media, thus 'extended the public and circulated content across the media landscape' (Poell et al., 2014).

What is Weibo & how does it work?

Weibo was launched in August 2009 as the micro-blogging service of Sina.com, one of China's leading technology companies. It has since played an essential part in the public life of the Chinese people, reflecting China's socio-political transition in the post-Olympics decade.
