The cost of the system is, at worst, lower than 2023. 6.

Why is energy storage important in Portugal?

therefore essential to meet European targets. Energy storage installed capacity in Portugal is still predominantly based on hydropower pumping, which is today over 3 GW, and will increase to 4,164 GW whe the Alto-Tâmega dam is completed this year. However, this paradigm is about to shift with the democratization of energy sto.

How much energy will Portugal produce in 2030?

According to the NECP (which also includes the mainland and islands), the power generation sector is expected to reduce emissions by 83 % in 2030 compared to 2005, so the value considered for 2030 should be 4.34 Mton. As this study considers only the values of mainland Portugal, the value to be achieved should be lower.
