IEEE Transactions on Intelligent Transportation Systems (T-ITS)

There is no open call for new Associate Editors for the IEEE Transactions on Intelligent Transportation Systems now. The next call will be opened in August 2025. The IEEE Transactions on Intelligent Transportation Systems (T-ITS) is published monthly. All issues of T-ITS are digitally archived in IEEE Xplore. (See

TPWRS RESOURCE SITE: About Peer Review - IEEE Transactions on Power

If authors do not contribute to peer review, none of their papers can be reviewed properly. The review system cannot function, and this is a lose-lose situation. On the other hand, if most authors volunteer for paper review and perform good reviews, all authors will

The general review process and duration are shown below. 1 week: initial screening completed by administrator (first pass) 1 week: EIC screens and assigns the paper to proper editor (second pass) 1.5 weeks: Editor assigns ...

Deep learning in power systems research: A review

With the rapid growth of power systems measurements in terms of size and complexity, discovering statistical patterns for a large variety of real-world applications such as renewable energy prediction, demand response, energy disaggregation, and state estimation is considered a crucial challenge. In recent years, deep learning has emerged as a novel class of ...

How long does it take to publish in IEEE transaction

In addition to Massimo's excellent answer: How often a journal appears has nothing to do with how long the review process will take. Those are completely disconnected things. Generally speaking, TSE is an excellent journal. 9 ...

TPWRS RESOURCE SITE: For Accepted Papers - IEEE Transactions on Power

There are two systems used by IEEE to process papers. One is the review system which is the Manuscript Center (MC). If a paper is accepted (including accepted subject to editorial improvements), the final submitted version to the MC will be automatically transferred to a Production System (PS).

IEEE Transactions on Power Systems

The main focus of the IEEE Transactions on Power Systems is the power system from a systems viewpoint instead of components of the system. It has five (5) key areas within its scope with several subdivisions within each area.

Revisiting Power Systems Time-Domain Simulation Methods

The changing nature of power systems dynamics is challenging present practices related to modeling and study of system-level dynamic behavior. While developing new techniques and models to handle the new modeling requirements, it is also critical to review some of the terminology used to describe existing simulation approaches and the embedded assumptions. ...

IEEE Transactions on Power Systems

IEEE Transactions on Power Systems has an h-index of 307 means 307 articles of this journal have more than 307 number of citations. The h-index is a way of measuring the productivity and citation impact of the publications. The h-index is defined as the

IEEE Transactions on Energy Conversion

The IEEE Transactions on Energy Conversion publishes both research and application-oriented articles dealing with the development, design, operation, modeling, analysis, diagnostics and control of electrical equipment used to convert any kind of energy (such as mechanical, chemical and solar) into electrical energy and vice versa.
