Overview

What is a flexible PV mounting structure?

Flexible PV Mounting Structure Geometric Model The constructed flexible PV support model consists of six spans, each with a span of 2 m. The spans are connected by struts, with the support cables having a height of 4.75 m, directly supporting the PV panels. The wind-resistant cables are 4 m high and are connected to the lower ends of the struts.

Why are flexible PV mounting systems important?

Traditional rigid photovoltaic (PV) support structures exhibit several limitations during operational deployment. Therefore, flexible PV mounting systems have been developed. These flexible PV supports, characterized by their heightened sensitivity to wind loading, necessitate a thorough analysis of their static and dynamic responses.

What is a flexible PV support structure?

The baseline, unreinforced flexible PV support structure is designated as F. The first reinforcement strategy involves increasing the diameter of the prestressed cables to 17.8 mm and 21.6 mm, respectively. These configurations are named F1-1 and F1-2 for ease of comparison.

How safe are flexible PV brackets under extreme operating conditions?

Safety Analysis under Extreme Operating Conditions For flexible PV brackets, the allowable deflection value adopted in current engineering practice is 1/100 of the span length. To ensure the safety of PV modules under extreme static conditions, a detailed analysis of a series of extreme scenarios will be conducted.

Why do we need flexible PV support systems?

The traditional rigid PV support systems face several issues and limitations, such as the requirement for large land areas, which constrain their deployment and development, especially in eastern regions . In response to these challenges, flexible PV support systems have rapidly developed.

What are the reinforcement strategies for flexible PV support structures?

This study proposes and evaluates several reinforcement strategies for flexible PV support structures. The baseline, unreinforced flexible PV support structure is designated as F. The first reinforcement strategy involves increasing the diameter of the prestressed cables to 17.8 mm and 21.6 mm, respectively.
