

Photovoltaic panel piling engineering scam

Overview

Are solar panels a scam?

This isn't so much the sign of a scam as it is a word of caution and advice: solar installers should give you a lot of information when providing a quote, including things like model numbers of the solar panels they plan to use. For example, some quotes we've seen just say things like " Qcells panels " or " REC panels ".

Is home solar a scam?

Scams are a blight on the solar industry, but that doesn't mean home solar itself is a scam. Here are some tricks to avoiding solar scams, finding reputable installers, and enjoying the benefits of home solar. If you only listen to one sales pitch, it can be easy to get sucked into a scam.

Are solar leases and PPAs a scam?

No, not all leases and PPAs are scams. However, they seem to be a breeding ground for deceptive and predatory practices, including the old "government is paying people to go solar" scam. Related reading: Solar Leases vs. Solar Loans vs. Solar PPAs.

How do I avoid solar panel scams?

Getting multiple quotes and thoroughly vetting installers is the best way to avoid solar panel scams. You can also use solar.com to compare quotes from our network of thoroughly vetted installers.

Are solar companies a bait and switch scam?

This is essentially a classic bait and switch scam. A solar company uses the premise of getting 30% off solar to get homeowners to sign a lease or PPA, and then collects it for themselves. In extreme cases, solar scammers may even pose as utility or government officials trying to promote a new or unique solar program in your area.

Are 'fake' solar companies a scam?

Beware of any company asking you to make a big deposit before they have completed their installation. This is one of the most common ways 'fake' solar companies have targeted consumers - whereby they take a hefty deposit and then never turn up to carry out the installation. This is common solar scam.
