

Photovoltaic panels to prevent bird droppings

Overview

How to protect solar panels from birds?

Protecting your solar panels from birds and their droppings is essential. The gap beneath solar panels is important to allow air movement. So blocking it off completely would be a bad thing and lead to the panels potentially overheating.

Can bird droppings affect the performance of solar panels?

Bird droppings and other debris can indeed impact the performance of your solar panels. Any dust and dirt will stop the light reaching the solar cells and therefore lower the output generation of the systems.

What is the best bird-proofing solution for solar panels?

An effective bird-proofing solution for solar panels is offered by the laser bird deterrent system AVIX Autonomic. The AVIX Autonomic Laser bird deterrent offers an innovative solution to bird-proof solar panels, reducing the need for frequent cleaning and associated costs.

Why should I pigeon-proof my solar panels?

Here are the main reasons to pigeon-proof your solar panels: Bird droppings decrease solar panel efficiency. Pigeon droppings are among the key types of dirt that accumulate on solar panels and stop the light getting through.

Are pigeon droppings bad for solar panels?

Bird droppings decrease solar panel efficiency. Pigeon droppings are among the key types of dirt that accumulate on solar panels and stop the light getting through. This is a particular issue for PV systems with string (central) inverters, because pigeon droppings on just one panel will degrade the performance of all the panels.

What happens if birds nest under solar panels?

Another issue arises when birds nest under solar panels. This could lead to accumulated debris such as twigs and leaves under your panels, potentially resulting in damage. The continuous scraping and movement of the nest against the panels might also lead to scratches or cracks on the panels' surface. Does bird poo affect solar panel efficiency?
