Overview

Where can I get a solar loan?

Many different institutions offer solar loans, including local and national banks, specialty financing companies, manufacturers, and credit unions. To choose the best solar loan for you, compare options from a few different financing providers. Use the EnergySage Solar Marketplace to review multiple equipment, installer, and financing options.

Are solar loans a good option?

Interest rates for solar loans are typically lower than other financing options, such as personal loans, home improvement loans, and credit cards. Financing companies keep the Annual Percentage Rate (APR) on their loans low by increasing the dealer fee.

What is a solar loan?

Get started here. Solar loans are a little different than a home mortgage or car loan because they are designed to accommodate the 30% federal solar tax credit by essentially delaying down payment until the credit comes through.

Can you get a loan for solar panels?

Some personal loan lenders offer home improvement loans for solar panels with terms of up to 12 years. Solar contractor financing may come with longer terms, such as 15 or 25 years. Choosing a shorter term will save you money on interest. Just make sure you can afford the monthly payments. What Happens If I Default on a Solar Panel Loan?

What is the best solar loan provider?

SoFi is our top choice for the best solar loan provider because it offers same-day funding, high borrowing limits, and no fees. We evaluated more than 70 lenders based on loan costs, terms, borrowing requirements, customer experience, and more. This lender does not disclose its minimum credit score requirements.

What financing options are available for solar panels?

One of the most popular financing options is a solar loan which allows homeowners to retain ownership of their system without needing to have all that cash upfront. Loans can be a great way to pay for solar panels because they typically come with no upfront cost, and monthly loan payments are often lower than your pre-solar electricity bill.
