

Trinity Solar Panels Come with Insurance

Overview

Whenever you're making significant changes to your home, it's always a good idea to contact your home insurance provider to let them know. If you've added solar panels, or are thinking of doing so, give your provider a call. The good news is that a lot of the time they are covered as standard by home insurance policies. This.

So, how and why can getting solar panels affect the cost of your insurance?

Usually, they won't. However, there are a couple of points to consider. Solar panels have reduced in price significantly in recent years, however recent.

Solar panels can last a very long time, in some cases up to 25 years if they're looked after properly. However, like most things they often pick up some damage along the way.

Paying more for your insurance after having the panels fitted is not always a bad thing! It might be that your provider has included the value of.
